The GOLD group coordinator is Mary Rothlisberger (LaBissoniere), BS ’10. While she was an undergraduate at UW, Mary geeked out over the actuarial field, passing the first exam on probability and quickly deciding to pursue the study as a career path. Mary began her actuarial career at Liberty Mutual immediately after graduating with a double major in economics and math. In July 2013, Mary ventured into the growing field of pet health insurance at a local start-up, Trupanion. Mary was a member and then president of the Economics Undergraduate Board where she met her husband, Eric Rothlisberger, BS ’10.
