REGIONAL ALUMNI REPRESENTATIVES

The Department maintains a list of alumni living outside Washington state who serve as regional representatives for UW Economics. Alumni in this role support fellow alumni and current Economics students by acting as professional and social contacts for their city or region.

Regional representatives might, for example, meet with a new graduate who is moving to that city to share insider tips, coordinate happy hour get-togethers for other alumni in the area, or provide information about the area and its industry to our students on the job market.

Students: please read this information for students interested in contacting a regional representative.

Regional representatives are vital to the Department’s connection with our alumni, who in turn are essential to the current and future success of the Department. Regional reps help build the visibility of the Department across the country. We just need one person to get a network started in your city – or join with another alumnus where you live and help strengthen our connection there!
